Overview of the Moss Mine and the Current Golden Vertex Corp. Operations.

The Moss Mine is located in Mohave County about 10 miles east of Laughlin, Nevada and Bullhead City, Arizona. The presentation will include the history of the mine since its discovery during the Civil War, the Oatman Gold Rush, the Depression era resurgence, and the exploration potential of the historic Oatman epithermal district. Operations will be discussed covering the mining, crushing, stacking, leaching, and Merrill Crowe recovery of the gold and silver to dore. The Environmental program, permitting plans and exploration program will also be covered.

Biography

Joe Bardswich is a graduate in Civil Engineering from the University of Windsor and earned his Masters in Mining Engineering at McGill University. His earliest memories are from accompanying his Dad to his placer operations in Clear Creek, near Central City, Colorado. He has worked on projects dealing with mining operations, mine development, exploration, heavy civil construction and reclamation in the United States, Canada, Britain, Zimbabwe and Mali. He has been a Director of Northern Vertex Mining Corp. since its founding in 2010, and moved from Montana to Bullhead City in 2012 to head up development of the Moss Mine.
