

The Great Debate is a good-natured debate about the mining industry with the goal of raising funds for the U.S. National Mining Hall of Fame and Museum. Who works harder? Who has more skill? Whose job is more important to the bottom line? Whose boots get dirtier?

There is absolutely no question whose boots get dirtier. There is absolutely no question who works harder, and who is most important to the bottom line.

It is the MINERS. Now is the time for us miners to step up and show the industry we also have the biggest HEART

ANTICLINE – The women married to Uncle Cline

The National Mining Hall of Fame and Museum is a monument to the memory of the men and women who pioneered the discovery, development, and processing of our nation's natural resources. Our mission is to "tell the story of mining, its people, its importance to the American public, and to society's sustainability."

Please donate today! We get one point for each person that donates. We get an additional point for each $100 that person donates. Donate here:

16 TO 1 - ratio of a geologists quartz specimens to his underwear

I have waited until now to send out this call to arms. The MINERS are way behind in this competition, and OUR HONOR IS AT STAKE!

Donate now! Send this to all your contacts. It is the right time, it is the right cause. Let's bury those Bozo's (yes, pun intended)!

THE GREAT DEBATE

GEOS LICK ROCKS!

MINERS EXPLODE ROCKS!

"If our industry were the Beatles: McCartney, Lennon and Harrison would be miners. The rest of these losers would be Ringo"

CASE CLOSED! SME Society of Mining, Metallurgy & Exploration

"Picking on metallurgists and geologists is always fun, but punching down always makes you feel a little dirty afterward. Like the way LeBron James probably feels when he plays a pickup game ... with middle schoolers"
